Controversy, they wrote

(books that proved controversial in their day)

Geoff Boycott

The BBC commentator, Don Mosey, almost a professional Yorkshireman, produced some enjoyable autobiographical books : a superb study of Jim Laker ... and a couple of hatchet jobs on Ian Botham and Geoff Boycott.

'Geoff set himself goals which demanded total application to the exclusion of all other considerations', concluded Mosey. 'He achieved them, but somewhere along the road he lost his way as a person because he lost sight of what life is really about - even in Yorkshire.'

* England footballer who played for Bristol Rovers in 1983 (both with the same surname)
- 2 * South African whose son debuted for England in 2016

Actual Letter Sent to the Daily Telegraph

19th April 2008

Dear Sir – I believe that Twenty-20 cricket should be renamed to differentiate it from proper cricket.
How about 'Whackit'.

Three to stump you

- 1 Which England player reappeared in 2016 after missing 142 successive test matches since his last one in 2005 ?
- 2 Who was appointed as head coach of Lancashire County Cricket Club in January 2017 ?
- 3 Name the player, born in Middlesbrough, who made his test debut for Australia in November 2016 ?

Strange scorecards down the years

Declared at 32 for 7 - and won
The scorecard of the first Ashes Test of 1950-51 always looks bizarre at first sight. England closed their first innings at 68 for 7 (160 behind), then Australia collapsed to 32 for 7 (before declaring themselves).

England needed only 193 to win ... but were soon 30 for 6, and were all out the next day for 122. What was happening ?
The secret lies in the Brisbane weather : a typical thunderstorm made the Gabba pitch almost impossible to bat on, and 20 wickets fell for 130 on the third day.

On this day (15th July)

On this day in 1938, Kent's Arthur Fagg became the only man in history to score two double-centuries in a first-class match, when he cracked 202 not out against Essex in Colchester.
He had already made a five hour 244 on the first day, including a century before lunch.

This day in 1850 was a great day for John Wisden. He bowled all ten batsmen in the second innings of the match between the North and South at Lord's. It's the only instance of an all-bowled ten-for in first class cricket.

Initially The Same

(name the following : they both have the same initials)
* Current Hambrook Cricket Club player
* Actor who played Phileas Fogg in a 2004 film

Away from the crease

- 1 By what name is Graham McPherson better known in the music world ?
- 2 Name the Englishman who won a gold medal at the 2016 Olympics, at the age of 58 ?
- 3 What type of transport was 'The Flying Dutchman' ?
